COURSE PROJECTS

Waste Image Classification (Fine-grained + 4 Bin-level), CS441

December 2025

- Daily Waste Sorting Assistant is an image-based system that helps users correctly classify and dispose of waste items. By analyzing a photo taken by the user, the system identifies the item category and recommends the appropriate disposal bin among four options. This approach provides quick and intuitive guidance for everyday waste sorting and helps reduce disposal errors in real-world scenarios.

RiscvOS (Operating System Design), ECE391

October

2025 – Present

- Based on the description of this course, we build a simple operating system, which implements the file system, virtual memory, system call handler, pipe, shell, scheduler and so on. And it could run multiple games like Trek, Zork and Rogue.
